

Niall Horan - Mirrors

Tom: D

She closed door
 She hides behind the face nobody knows
 She feels her skin touch the floor
 She wants to fight
 Her eyes are tired, nobody's on her side
 She wants to feel like she did before

Bm
 She looks into her mirror
 Wishing someone could hear her, so loud
 And I, need love, to hold me closer
 In the night, just enough

Em G D A
 I, need love, to hold me closer
 In the night, just enough
 To feel my body come alive
 When my bones starts breaking, my heart starts shaking
 I need love, need love

G D
 The coffee's cold
 He turns around and says: I hope you know
 You're beautiful, have you ever been told
 She's a little shy
 As he walks away, she slowly breaks a smile

The skies are blue, haven't been for a while

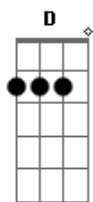

Bm
 She looks into her mirror
 Wishing someone could hear her, so loud
 And I, need love, to hold me closer
 In the night, just enough

Em G D A
 I, need love, to hold me closer
 In the night, just enough
 To feel my body come alive
 When my bones starts breaking, my heart starts shaking
 I need love, need love

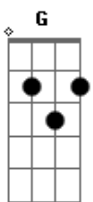

Em G D A
 Oh, oh woa
 Oh, oh woa

G D
 She closed door
 She hides behind the face nobody knows
 She feels her skin touch the floor
 I, need love, to hold me closer
 In the night, just enough
 To feel my body come alive
 When my bones starts breaking, my heart starts shaking
 I need love, need love
