NineInchNails (TDS #3) HERESY
By Psylip Coval

[INTRO] Synth line arranged for guitar

[VERSE_1]
He sewed his eyes shut because he is afraid to see what I put inside
He tries to tell me of me He's got the answers to ease my curiosity He dreamed a god up and called it christianity

[CHORUS] Chorus riff

(Your) god is dead and no one cares
if there is a hell I'll see you there

[PRE_VERSE] Cool little riff x6

[VERSE_2] w/ cool riff
he flexed his muscles to keep his flock of sheep in line that would kill off he made a virus
all the swine of killing,
his perfect kingdom
suffering and pain atrocities done in demands devotion
his name

[CHORUS] x2 god is dead.....hell I'll see you there

[BREAK] perc/synth line:

Then add the Outro guitar part:

[CHORUS] god is dead.....hell I'll see you there [OUTRO] {sort of confused chorus part}
/ (your god is dead) (and no one cares)
no one cares your god is dead and /(drowning in his own hypocrisy)
if there is a hell I will see you there
? burning with your god in humility
? { extra }
? will you die for this?
? {words ?}
_____ [niNOTES] _____

Words of "Mommy" :

This is an interestin tune...tune down to DROP D for this one...
The outro at first sounds like it changes every other measure,
but if you listen really closely, it's all synth noise
that I couldn't hear well enough to TAB out...

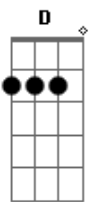

Words of "Psylip" :

This song is full of "parasit" noises. That's why the chorus part and the outro sound weird to me. Anyway all others sound good.
I'm not sure trent "sings" all the outro the way it is printed
And last "if there is a hell" could be ~ "it's that all I have".
