Noah Kahan - Sink

```
Tom: Bb
                                                         And I'll sink
(com acordes na forma de A )
                                                         Time slows to let me talk alone
Capostraste na 1ª casa
                                                                        D
        D
                                                         High hopes don't last me very long
Α
Oh, she hates to say goodbye
                                                           Gbm
                                                                         D
    D
                                                         Winding roads, they never seem to stop
Α
So she only says goodnight
                                                                    Α
                                                         But I'll sink
 Gbm D
When she goes, she stops to look behind
      A D
                                                         Gbm
                                                                        D
                                                                                              Ε
                                                           Oh, she's the sunset in the west
And I'll sink
     D
                                                         Gbm
                                                               D
                                                                                              F
                                                                                     Α
Oh, she sleeps with one eye closed
                                                            Oh, she's sleep when I need rest
        D
                                                         Gbm
                                                                           D
So she can tell when she's alone
                                                          And though the ship can be saved yet
 Gbm D
                                                                 Gbm D
                                                         And oh, for you, I would never sink again
Oh no, yeah, summer comes and goes
           A E
But I'll sink
                                                              Gbm D
                                                         And oh, I would never sink again
Gbm
                                 A E
                                                              Gbm D
                D
  Oh, she's the sunset in the west
                                                         And oh, I would never sink again
Gbm
     D
                                    E
                                                              Gbm D
  Oh, she's sleep when I need rest
                                                         And oh, I would never sink again
                                                         E Gbm D
And oh, for you, I would never sink again
Gbm
              D
 And though the ship can be saved yet
   E Gbm D
                                                                                                   Е
                                                             F
                                                                Gbm
                                                                        D
And oh, for you, I would never sink again
                                                         And oh, for you, I would never sink again
   Е
       Gbm D
And oh, for you, I would never sink again
                                                         Gbm
                                                                          D
                                                                                                Е
                                                             Oh, she's the path in which I tread
(AD)
                                                         Gbm
                                                                          D
                                                                                    Α
                                                             Oh, she's the shiver up my neck
  D
                                                                        D
                                                         Gbm
Α
Oh, she promises to write
                                                            Oh, she's the blood rush to my head
                                                         E Gbm D A
Oh, for you, I would never sink again
           D
I know it's harder if she tries
                                                         E Gbm D A
And oh, for you, I would never sink again
        Gbm D
So I have grown to tell myself a lie
                 D
          Α
```

Acordes

