Am G F
We can feel the nights are
Getting warmer
                                                                   I'm on holiday
                                                                    F G
We can feel the city getting calmer
                                                                   With you
                                                                    C
And the gates implode
                                                                   I'm on holiday
