Well our souls are all mistaken in the same misguided way We all end up forsaken, we're just choosing our own way The future now incinerates before our very eyes And leaves us with emptiness of no more tries Riff 2

Well our visions of glory have spiraled down the drain The best of our intentions come crashing down in flames The depths of our despair we are unable to contain It's shallow living

The noose is falling
And all my friends are crawling

The noose is falling
And enemies are rising

Well the tracers from yesteryear are burning in the dust

Your bruises are reminders of naivete and trust You're only feeling stronger cause your body's getting numb Now I lay you down Put the coins in your eyes And blow the candles out Refrão The noose is falling And all my friends are crawling The noose is falling And enemies are rising A truth appalling Our mak'r comes a calling The noose is falling And enemies are rising Repete Intro Solinho
