                                                         Or how a breeze can make you start down a brand new road

                                                         You ne..ver know what place you're gonna end up
                                                             Dbm B A
A chapter begins the pages turn in the wind
                                                         Even better than you dreamt of, right where you?re meant to go

The story is so unpredictable
                                                         You ne..ver know, know

But the best is yet to come, woah
                                                         You ne..ver know, know (You ne..ver know)
{\tt I} open my eyes and {\tt I} can see the horizon
                                                         [Ponte]
And the thrill is indescribable

                                                         So, this is eighteen for me
In the California sun, it shows
                                                                         Dbm
