

Origami Angel - The Brightest Days

```
Been missing_you
                tom:
                C (forma dos acordes no tom de Db )
                                                                  Even on the brightest days, the sky
                Afinação: Eb Ab Db Gb Bb Eb
Intro: D
                                                                  Still seems so blue
                 Е
Where are you, my sunny feeling I
                                                                  Maybe you could turn me round and
Knew as a kid?
                                                                  Teach me something new
Even on the brightest days, I can't I've been dying for someone to Change my point of view
See where you've been
I've been trying to find you and I
Gm D
                                                                  But they tell me I can't, they tell Know someday I will Me I never will
                                                                                        D
And if I don't then I'm prepared to
                                                                  They tell me there's too much stuff
Die upon this hill
                                                                  I'll never get the chance to know
                                                                             Em
They tell me I'm sad, they tell me
                                                                  But when I find you
Gm
I'm crazy
                                                                  Oh God, when I find you
                                                                  We'll prove them wrong
They tell me that there are other Things that I should focus on Where are you, my sunny feeling I \stackrel{\text{D}}{\text{D}}
But when I find you
                                                                  Knew as a kid?
Oh when I find you
                                                                  Even on the brightest days, I can't
We'll prove them wrong
                                                                  See where you've been
Where are you my skyline hero, I've Acordes
```

