

Owl City - The Technicolor Phase

Tom: G

I am the red in the rose, the flowers on the blankets on your bedroom floor.
And I am the gray in the ghost that hides
with your clothes behind your closet door.
I am the green in the grass that bends back from underneath your feet.
And I am the blue in your back alley view where the horizon and the rooftops meet.

Break: Em, G 4x (not sure about this, but it sounds fine and works for me when I play)

If you cut me I suppose I would bleed
the colors of the evening stars.
You can go anywhere you wish cause I'll be there, wherever you are.

C Em D

(I will always be your keys when we are lost in the technicolor phase)

I am the black in the book
the letters on the pages that you memorize.
And I am the orange in the overcast of color that you visualize.

I am the white in the walls that soak up all the sound when you cannot sleep.
And I am the peach in the starfish on the beach that wish the harbor wasn't quite so deep.

(break) Em G

If you cut me I suppose I would bleed
the colors of the evening stars.
You can go anywhere you wish cause I'll be there, wherever you are.

Acordes

