

Ozzy Osbourne - Take What You Want ft. Post Malone

```
Take what you want and go
                            tom:
               B (forma dos acordes no tom de G )
Capostraste na 4º casa
                                                                Why don't you take what you want from me?
Intro: Am Em C F
Am Em F E7
                                                                Take what you need from me
[Riff]
                                                                Take what you want and go
                                                                [Segunda Parte]
                                                                They all ran through it, it ain't nothing left to do
                                                                I need some more reasons to live out this evening (straight
I feel you crumble in my arms down to your heart of stone
You bled me dry just like the tears you never show
                                                                I've been sippin' forever and just taking whatever
Why don't you take what you want from me?
                                                                Hoping, thinking whenever you'll be back around
Take what you need from me
                                                                Let's go our ways, whichever
                                                                       Em
Take what you want and go
                                                                You say how is however long
Why don't you take what you want from me?
                                                                'Cause you know I never be alone
Take what you need from me
                                                                [Pré-Refrão]
Take what you want and go
                                                                Am
                                                                Love (love)
[Primeira Parte]
                                                                Shorty gon' back (shorty gon' back)
I never needed anything from you
                                                                Need it on sight (need it on sight)
                                                                Crack it all back (crack it all back)
And all I ever asked was for the truth
You showed your tongue and it was forked in two
                                                                Give her that pipe (give her that pipe)
                                                                All of my cash (all of my cash)
Your venom was lethal, I almost believed you
     Am
Yeah, you preyed on my every mistake
                                                                Shawty went bad (shawty went bad)
Waited on me to break, held me under hopin' I would drown
                                                                [Refrão]
Like a plague, I was wasting away
                                                                I feel you crumble in my arms_down to your heart of stone
                                                                Am Em F E7
You bled me dry just like the tears you never show
Tryna find my way out, find my way out
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                                Why don't you take what you want from me?
              Fm
      Αm
And it finally came the day
                                                                Take what you need from me
                                                                Take what you want and go
For heaven's sake, my bones will break
                                                                             Am
                                                                Why don't you take what you want from me?
But you'll never own my soul, no
                                                                Take what you need from me
[Refrão]
                                                                Take what you want and go
                         C
         Em
I feel you crumble in my arms down to your heart of stone
                                                                (Am Em C F)
                                                                ( Am Em F E7 )
You bled me dry just like the tears you never show
                                                                Take it all away
Why don't you take what you want from me?
                                                                Why don't you (take what you want, take what you need)
                                                                Take what you need from me? Yeah
Take what you need from me
                                                                (Take what you want) why don't you (take what you need)
                                                                (What you need, yeah)
```

Acordes

