Original tocada em Drop D (D A D G B E )
                                                               This is gospel, for the vagabonds
                                                               Ne'er-do-wells and insufferable bastards
This is gospel for the fallen ones
Locked away in permanent slumber
                                                               Confessing their apostasies
                                                               Led away by imperfect impostors
Assembling their philosophies
From pieces of broken memories
                                                                        Em
                                                               Oh oh oh oh oh
Oh oh oh oh oh
                                                               This is the beat of my heart

                                                               Don't try to sleep
When gnashing teeth
                                                               Through the end of the world
And criminal tongues
                                                               And bury me alive
Conspire against the odds
                                                               'Cause I won't give up without a fight
But they haven't seen the best of us yet
                                                               If you love me, let me go!

                                                               'Cause these words are knives and often leave scars
                                                               From fear of falling apart
