There's a rank and a kind of affinity
And there's no other way out from your faith
Far beyond value and veracity
You have to take care of what could be fake
I guess I know what you? ll like
I guess I know what you? ll hide
To draw your attention
And feed your jealous mind
All you have mentioned, it's easy to find
It's not a big deal
Just have to be ready to see
Now you're losing the game to me
Everybody watches everybody
For nobody does what they want to do
Everybody watches everybody
For nobody loves who they want to love
And all the repression and self censorship

It freezes your mind from what it could be
There's a door to be opened, a new world out there
Escape from the cave and come to share
I just don't know what you're waiting for
I just don't know why you feel unsure
To draw your attention
And feed your jealous mind
All you have mentioned, it's easy to find
It's not a big deal
Just have to be ready to see
Now you're losing the game to me
Everybody watches everybody
For nobody does what they want to do
Everybody watches everybody
For nobody loves who they want to love
