

Paul McCartney - Seize The Day

```
tom:
                                                               Seize the day
            [Primeira Parte]
                                                                [Terceira Parte]
I don't care to be bad
                                                               I bless the day when you came into my life
                                                               And I could finally roll back the blind
I prefer to think twice
All I know is it's quite a show
                                                               You helped me to realise that love was the greatest prize
But it's still alright to be nice
                                                                I only had to open my mind
Yankee toes and Eskimos can turn to frozen ice
                                                                Seize the day
                                                               Seize the day
[Refrão]
                                                                Seize the day
When the cold days come,
                                                                Seize the day
      D and the old ways fade away
                                                                          B A Ab Gb
                                                                Seize the day
There?ll be no more Sun,
                                                                [Primeira Parte]
and we?ll wish that we had held on to the day
Seize the day
                                                               I don't care to be bad
                                                               I prefer to think twice
[Segunda Parte]
                                                               All I know is it's quite a show
I don't mean to be wrong
                                                                But it's still alright to be nice
I don't mean to be right
                                                                               G
                                                                Yankee toes and Eskimos can turn to frozen ice
I'm okay on a sunny day when the world deserves to be bright
                                                                [Refrão]
Dinosaurs and Santa Claus will stay indoors tonight
                                                               When the cold days come,
[Refrão]
                                                                and the old ways fade away
When the cold days come,
                                                                There?ll be no more Sun,
      D
and the old ways fade away
                                                                and we?ll wish that we had held on to the day
There?ll be no more Sun,
                                                                Seize the day
and we?ll wish that we had held on to the day
                                                                       Ab Dbm Ab
                                                                Seize the day
```

Seize the day

Acordes

