

Peggy - Falling For The Villain

tom:
Capostrate na 3ª casa
You're just standing on the clasp of what's okay
Not morally grey, textbook insane
Now I'd like to draw this line
You've crossed so many times
At this point I'm out of my mind
What's the point in loving someone morally confusing?
It's not likely
It's so unlike me
Oh, oh, I can't shake this feeling
'Cause I think, I'm falling for the villain
And it's not looking like a good decision
Ohhhhh
And I try so hard to understand this
And you won't attempt to reprimand it
Should I sit, take it in, let it all unfold?
Or just say no?
I know we can't pick and choose
I might just fall for you
It's not all win or lose
N.c
No black and white
This color too
And I know how bad this sounds
But the silence is so damn loud

Guess you're not that bad
Did I say that?
What's the point in loving someone morally confusing?
It's not likely
It's so unlike me
And I try so hard to understand this
And you won't attempt to reprimand it
Should I sit, take it in, let it all unfold?
Or just say no?
Should I say no, should I say no?
I can't say no
I can't say no
And I try so hard to understand this
And you won't attempt to reprimand it
Should I sit, take it in, let it all unfold?
Or just say no?
Oh, oh, I can't shake this feeling
'Cause I know, I'm falling for the villain
And it's a really really bad decision
And I try so hard to understand this
And you won't attempt to reprimand it
Should I sit, take it in, let it all unfold?
Should I sit, take it in, let it all unfold?
Should I sit, take it in, let it all unfold?
I can't say no
