Pentakill - Lightbringer

```
                            tom:
                        G
                      Am
Fellow armsmen, I ask you
G                                           Dm
Will you follow me tonight to break their spine
                                  F G
And reclaim what once was mine

Those cravens

Am
Backstabbed me, deceived me
G                                     Dm
Never shall I tolerate their crimes again
                       F G
Now let the hunt begin

Am          F                 G              Am
7000 Souls, scared and daunted, such a tale of woe
                           F              G
Not too long ago, this village was a golden
             Am
Scene of hope

Am           G
Call down the reckoning
      Dm                    F
To bring back hope and peace
                   Am  G
Restore our gloria
        Dm       F
To live forever

Am           G
Bring down the dark regime
    Dm                 F                    Am    G
I know how to unleash the eternal power
```

```
                    Dm
Lead us to order
              F           G
I am the lightbringer

Am                       G
Fellow warriors, I ask you
                              Dm
Should my campaign come to an end
                           F     G
There's way more to avenge

Am
15 Million souls
F           G                      Am
Living in this realm without much hope
                         G              F
Not too long ago, this kingdom was a golden
             Am
State of hope

Am           G
Call down the reckoning
      Dm                    F
To bring back hope and peace
                   Am  G
Restore our gloria
        Dm       F
To live forever

Am                G
Bring down the dark regime
    Dm               F              Am    G
I know how to unleash the eternal power
                     Dm
Lead us to order
              F         Am
I am the lightbringer
```
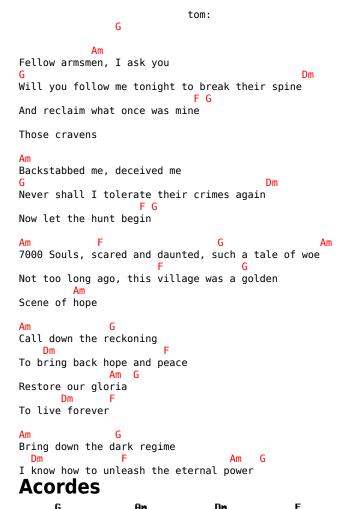

Acordes