

Peter Hammill - Forsaken Gardens

Tom: C

F Dm
Where are all the joys of yesterday?

F Dm
Where, now, is the happiness and laughter that we shared?

Am G
Gone, like our childhood dreams, aspirations and beliefs

Am F
Time is a thief, and he ravages our gardens

Dm
Stripping saplings, felling trees

F Dm
Trampling on our flowers, sucking sap and drying seeds

Am G
In the midnight candle-light of experience

Am D C B
All colour fades, green fingers grey

G Em
Time, alone, shall murder all the flowers

G
Still, there's time to share our plots and all that we call 'ours'

Am F
How much worse, then, if we all deny each others' needs

Bb F Dm C
And keep our garden's privately?

Am Em
Its getting colder, wind and rain leave gashes

Am F G Am G Am
Looking back, I only see the friends I've lost

Am Em
Fires smoulder, raking through the ashes

Am
My hands are dirty, my mind is numb

F G Am G F
I count the cost of 'I'

Em Bm
"I need to get on, I've got to tend my garden

Em C D Em Bm
Got to shut you out, no time to crave your pardon no_ow"

(Gbm Bm Ab Bb C)

F Dm
Now I see the garden that I've grown is just the same
As those outside

F Eb
The fences, [that] erected to protect, simply divide

Gm
There's ruination everywhere, the weather has

Em
Played havoc with the grass

Gm F
Does anyone believe his [their] garden's really going to last?

Am F
[And] In the time allotted us, can any man keep miserly his own?

Am F Em Am
Is there any pleasure in a solitary growth?

(F G Am G Am Em Am)
(Am G Am G F)
(Em Bm Em C D Em)
F (Bm Gbm Bm Ab Bb C Db Fm)

F Dm
Come and see my garden if you will

F Dm
I'd like someone to see it all before each root is killed

Am G
Surely now its time to open up each life to all

Am D C B
Tear down the walls, if its not too late

G Em
There is so much sorrow in the world

G F
There is so much emptiness and heartbreak and pain

Am F
Somewhere on the road we have all taken a wrong turn

Bb F Dm C F C Bb
How can we build the right path aga_in?

Am Gm
Through the grief, through the pain

Am
Our flowers need each others' rain
