

Poets Of The Fall - Given' and denied

```
Tom: B
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                Give me those wings
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                Let me fly once again

Gb Dbm
                                       Abm
                                                                                                                 Gb
Which way to the fountain of my youth I wonder
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Like I did way back when
Abm Gb
Which way to the years I've let go by
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 I would gamble and win
                                                                                                                  Gb
Let a thirsty man drink in its memories while the water still Ebm
flows sweet and crystal Clear
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 To lift me high above the din
Gb E Ebm
For yesteryear
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                Of the future we see
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Does it hold something for me
   Oh to see the sun's eclipse
                    Gb
                                                           Dbm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 I'm weightless again
On the horizon like ships
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    Gb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Just before the shadows
Sailing way away from here
                        Ebm
Oh just one more time my dear
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Fall like a leaf in the wind on the ocean
Before I'll go hear me out
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            Abm Gb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       E
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Of blue like your eyes in the twilight theater
Cos of this there ain't no doubt
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                Gb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                With symphonies playing in the world without sound
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   Ebm
When it's time for curtain call
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                We're given and denied
                     Gb
Just before the shadows
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 [Solo] Dbm A Dbm A
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      Dbm A Dbm A
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 ( Abm Gb E )
Fall like a leaf in the wind on the ocean % \left\{ 1\right\} =\left\{ 1\right\} =
       Abm Gb
Of blue like your eyes in the twilight theater

Abm Gb E
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                Before I'll go hear me out
With symphonies playing in the world without sound
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Cos of this there ain't no doubt
                     Fbm Dbm
We're given and denied
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                When it's time for curtain call
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      Gb
( Abm Gb E )
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Just before the shadows
                                                             Gb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            Gb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Fall like a leaf in the wind on the ocean
Give me back my innocence cos I wish to dream again
                                                          Gb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            Abm Gb E
Like I never outgrew my old playground
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Of blue like your eyes in the twilight theater
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             Abm Gb E
Abm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 With symphonies playing in the world without sound
Where the sun sets slowly with a golden crown and the leaves
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        Ebm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                Dbm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                We're given and denied
sing lullabies 'round vacant swings
                                                     E Ebm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 [Final] B Am A
```

Acordes

