

The Pogues - The Auld Triangle

Tom: G

A hungry feeling^G
 Came o'er me stealing^{Bm}
 And the mice were squeeling^C
 In my prison cell^A
 And that auld triangle went jingle-jangle^{Bm}
 All along the banks of the Royal Canal^C
 Oh! To start the morning^G
 The warden bawling^{Bm}
 "Get up out of bed, you! And Clean out your cell!"^C
 And that auld triangle went jingle-jangle^{Bm}
 All along the banks of the Royal Canal^C
 Oh! the screw was peeping^G
 And the loike was sleeping^{Bm}
 As he lay weeping^C
 For his girl Sal^A
 And that auld triangle went jingle-jangle^{Bm}
 All along the banks of the Royal Canal^C

On a fine Spring evening^G
 The loike lay dreaming^{Bm}
 And the sea-gulls were wheeling^C
 High above the wall^A
 And that auld triangle went jingle-jangle^{Bm}
 All along the banks of the Royal Canal^C
 Oh! the wind was sighing^G
 And the day was dying^{Bm}
 As the loike lay crying^C
 In his prison cell^A
 And that auld triangle went jingle-BLOODY-jangle^{Bm}
 All along the banks of the Royal Canal^C
 In the women's prison^G
 There are seventy women^{Bm}
 And I wish it was with them^C
 That I did dwell^A
 And that auld triangle CAN GO jingle-jangle^{Bm}
 All along the banks of the Royal Canal^C
