Intro: Bm7 E7 A Gb7
Bm7 E7 A

[Primeira Parte]

Give me a night, a bar, and a bottle to sip on, a neon light and a Stool to sit on
And I'll be on my way straight to regret
And I don't wanna see the sunshine anymore
I'll be on the dark side right behind them same old swingin'
Doors, oh

[Refrão]

Who needs you when I can break myself in two?
I can make my gray skies blue if that's what I aim to do
And I tear it all to pieces, I don't need no blue-eyed reason
Baby, who needs you when I can break myself in two?

[Interlúdio] Bm7 E7 A Gb7

[Segunda Parte]

Bm7 E7

Acordes

I don't need a suitcase and a car in the fast lane
To turn this bottle into where Jack ain't
Me, myself, and I can get the job don? fine, so don't flatter yourself anymore?
I can make me lonelier than you can if we're keepin' score

[Refrão]

Who needs you when I can break myself in two?
I can make my gray skies blue if that's what I aim to do
And I tear it all to pieces, I don't need no blue-eyed reason
Baby, who needs you when I can break myself in two? (Eat him alive, Larry, come on)

If I can change this cloudy weather, then I can put me back together
