I was a little girl
alone in my little world
who dreamed of a little home for me.
I played pretend between the trees,
      F7
and fed my houseguests bark and leaves,
and laughed in my pretty bed of green.
I had a dream
   Em
That I could fly from the highest swing.

Long walks in the dark

I asked God who I'm supposed to be.

The stars smiled down on me,
God answered in silent reverie.
I said a prayer and fell asleep.

I don't know what's left to say
F7
about this life I'm willing to leave.
I lived it full and I lived it well,
there's many tales I've lived to tell.
I'm ready now, I'm ready now, I'm ready now to fly from the highest wing.

I had a dream
