                          tom:                                  Wine, sweet wine, might make you mine
                 G                                                    C           Em           G
Intro: G  Bb  A                                                 I'm a fool, sweet fool for you

Em                    G                                         ( C  Em  G )
I cannot be with someone, if someone wants just anyone          ( C  Em  G )
Em                       G               Bb     A               ( C  Em  G )
I can not just run, run, run, my fingers through your hair      ( C  Em  G )
Em                      G                       Em
I cannot be a half-way love, cooped up, thin, a dirty dove      Dm     Bb     F       C      Em
                             G                                  Si.....lent, still I cannot keep Wait each night to fit the glove                                Dm     Bb     F       C      Em
       Bb     A                                                 Si.....lent, still I cannot keep Drink another bottle of

C           Em         G
Wine, sweet wine, might make you mine
      C           Em           G   Bb  A
I'm a fool, sweet fool for you                                  ( C  Em  G )
Em                    G                                         ( C  Em  G )
I cannot sit on the shelf, while you go play with someone else
Em                     G              Bb    A
Crack my china cherry chin, I cannot grin and bear it
Em                      G                       Em      C           Em         G
You cannot just lock me out, you cannot just block me out       Wine, sweet wine, might make you mine
                       G                 Bb    A                      C           Em           G
I can not just fall asleep beside your cold, filled             I'm a fool, sweet fool for you
                                                                C           Em         G
C           Em         G                                        Wine, sweet wine, might make you mine
Wine, sweet wine, might make you mine                                 C         Em           G
      C           Em           G                                I can not, be a fool for you
I'm a fool, sweet fool for you
