

Radiohead - Fog Again Intro

Tom: D

Fog (Again)[Live]
Go To Sleep Single [CD]
Standard Tuning (EADGBE)

This is my interpretation of Fog as it appears on the Go To Sleep Single [CD]. The I transcribed this from is the one with Thom playing solo piano, so I tried to mimic the that it is played in. That being said, it works best finger picked. I only tabbed the because the chords and style remain more or less constant throughout the entire song. The only real variation is at the end where Thom starts singing "Did you go bad?" etc. the chords alternate between G and A. The song then finishes with the first 2 bars of Intro: and resolves on the A. If you can play this then the rest should be really easy. Enjoy!

A A
G Gm
D Bm
A A
A A

That's that. I hope I'm not the only one that thinks this sounds pretty good. I like Single [CD]. I'm also working on a guitar tab for the piano version of Like Spinning from I Might Be Wrong (which, in my opinion, also is far superior to the album which appears on Amnesiac). Any feedback would be greatly appreciated.

D Bm
