Ramones - Strength To Endure

Tom: C

As usual, I'm only indicating the fingering for this song. Don't take the
|'s as a symbology for any kind of timing.

There may be details missing, I never pay attention to them. I also don't know how many times to play each part (I ain't got the CD any more). Listening to the song is enough to figure this out.
Intro:

During the verses play the intro pattern like this, muffling the strings a little.

Between each verse comes the chorus

Chorus:

    I have the strength to ....

    I have the strength to ....

Yeah, there's that little solo. For that, the rythm plays the intro while the solo goes like this (more or less). In this tab note that:
/   means slide upward
B   means a full bend

Then back to verse

The song ends with that intro. In the very end (last bar) instead of playing the single note pattern, it goes like

I accept anything (suggestions, comments, money, etc.) but no flame.

Intro: d. C Em Am G   AM   G Am G} 2X

     C            Em              Am  G    Am  G Am G
Walking through the cross fire heart
     C            Em         Am  G   Am G Am G
Feeling heavy and hopeless
       C         Em  Am   G Am G Am G
Wonderin' how I ever will
     C            Em          Am G   Am  G   Am  G
see through this darkness
C        Em         Am G Am G Am G
Every drop of blood can
   C        Em    Am G Am
be so beautiful
G    Am     C        Em     Am G Am
And I       sure was bleedin' the G Am G      C        Em     Am G Am G   Am G
drops          by the bucketful

                          C              Am
I have the strenght to endure
                   C                    G
And all the love so pure
                          C              Am
I have the strenght to endure
        G             F
Because, because...

       C       Em        Am G   Am G Am G
I'm not afraid to tell her
     C            Em      Am G Am G Am
Just how things work
        C      Em              Am G Am G Am
Ride a hurricane through the fast lane
           C              Em        Am G Am G Am G
Always looking over my shoulder
                        C     Em     Am    G    Am G Am
She said, "there's something about you, and
     C         Em            Am G Am G Am G
neon  lights always glow hot
           C      Em        Am  G Am G Am G
Baby we can see this through
        C           Em              Am G Am G Am G
Just give all the strenght you've got"
