Rancid - The Wars End

```
Tom: G                                    B      A       G        D C B A
Intro: G  D  C  G                         We're at the war's end
                                          G
       D                     C  G         Go!
Little Sammy was a punk rocker,
       D               G C   G C          ( A   G  D )
You know his mother never understand him  ( C   B  A  G )
            G                      D   G C
Went into his room and smashed his Billy Bragg record,  D              G C B A G
               G            D        G    Little Sammy was a punk rocker
Didn't want him to hear that communist lecture          D            G   C B A G
       D              G C B A G           Now it's time for you to leave home
Little Sammy was a punk rocker,
           D               G     C B      C
A G                                       War
You know his mother tried to take him to war,  G              D   G
                                          Sammy now the war is over
C                                         C
War                                       War
G                   D   G                 G                       D
Sammy now the war is over                 Sammy now we're at the war's end
C
War                                       D              G D C
G                       D                 We're at the war's end
Sammy now we're at the war's end,         B      A    G       D C
                                          We're at the war's end
D              G D C                      B      A    G       D C
We're at the war's end,                   We're at the war's end
B      A    G       D C                    B      A    G       D C B A
We're at the war's end,                   We're at the war's end
B      A    G       D C                    G
We're at the war's end,                   Go!
```

Acordes