

Rebecca Sugar - Time Adventure

Tom: G

Time is an illusion
That helps things make sense
So we're always living
In the present tense
It seems unforgiving
When a good thing ends
But you and I will always be back then
You and I will always be back then
You and I will always be back then
You and I will always be back then
You and I will always be back then

Singing will happen
Happening happened
Will happen
Happening happened
And will happen
Again and again
Again and again

Cause you and I will always be back then

If there was some amazing force outside of time
To take us back to where we were
And hang each moment up like pictures on the wall
Inside a million tiny frames
So that we could see it all all all

It would look like
Will happen
Happening happened
Will happen
Happening happened
And will happen
Again and again
Cause you and I will always be back then
Cause you and I will always be back then
Cause you and I will always be back then
That's why
You and I will always be best friends
