

R.E.M. - Saturn Return

Tom: C

Em Bm A G
Easy to poke yourself square in the eye

Em Bm A G
Harder to like yourself, harder to try

Em Bm
These are spouses

A G
Postcards and neoprene

Em Bm A G
Roses a dollar a stem

Em Bm A G
Everyone's sleeping or pulling the long haul and

Em Bm A G
Keys in the cooler its three A.M.

Em Bm Em
And Saturn is beckoning no one

A Em
It's off on its own

A F
It's offering up

Late shift can bring in store, burn out the lights
Telescope roof towards the northwestern sky
You pulled the ladder and no one's the wiser
You find your sights and discover

Saturn is orbiting nothing

He's off on its own
He's breaking from home

G F G F
Harder to look yourself square in the eye

G F Em
Easy to take off

You found the ladder in the pattern of your wrist
You've seen and you've marked horizons
Mother was difficult, she made you cry
Cover the mirror, look to the sky
You climbed into your rocketship trying
Lift up and hold out your hands

Saturn is orbiting nothing
He's off on its own
He's breaking from home

Saturn is orbiting nothing
He's off on its own
He's breaking from home

Saturn returns when you chase down, it slows
Throw them into a new gravity
Harder to look yourself square in the eye
Easy to poke yourself, easy as pie
Easy to take off, harder to fly
Harder to wake Galileo
