

The Rembrandts - Someone

Tom: E

We've been together now for such a long time

Through every trial we'd ever care to go

When I look back I almost can't believe it

We're not the same people that we used to know

With all the years behind me spent pretending

I didn't need someone like you around

It makes it even harder to imagine

The life I'd be living if I hadn't found

Someone to hold me the way that you do

Someone who needs me the way I need you

Someone to show me a way that is true

Someone to love me the way that I love you

When there was no one left for me to turn to

When all the world I knew was falling down

Oh there were times I couldn't face the morning

But everything's changed since the day that I found

Someone to hold me the way that you do

Someone who needs me the way I need you

Someone to show me a way that is true

Someone to love me the way that I love you
