 Now you sit there thinking feeling insecure

 The mocking court jester claims there is no proven cure
 G Bm C D
 Go back to your chamber, your eyes upon the wall
 G Bm C D D
 Cos you got no one to listen, you got no one to call
 G Bm C D
 And you think I'm curious

[Segunda Parte]

G Bm C D
 Drifting, drowning in a purple sea of doubt
 G Bm C D
 You wanna hear she loves you, but the words don't fit the mouth
 G Bm C D D
 You're a loser, a rebel, a cause without
 G Bm C D
 But don't think me callous

[Terceira Parte]

G Bm C D
 Dancing Rosemary, disappearing sister Ruth

G Bm C D
 It's just your yellow appetite, that has you choking on the truth

G Bm C D D
 You gave in, you gave out, outlived your dreams of youth
 G Bm C D
 And I can't get jealous

[Quarta Parte]

G Bm C D
 So go on, you'll continue with your nose so open wide
 G Bm C D
 Knocking on that door that says "hurry come inside
 G Bm C D D
 But don't bother to buy insurance cuz you've already died..."
 G Bm C D
 And you can't be serious

[Quinta Parte]

G Bm C D
 I saw my reflection in my father's final tears
 G Bm C D
 The wind was slowly melting, San Francisco disappears
 G Bm C D
 Acid heads, unmade beds, and your woodwork full of queers
 G Bm C D
 I know you're lonely
 G Bm C D
 I know you're lonely
 G Bm C D
 I know you're lonely
