

Roxette - Looking For Jane

Tom: D

(Words & music by Per Gessle)

Where did she go? Where did she go from here?
 The last time I saw her she made all the clouds disappear.
 She said, with a smile, yea, the weather's alright.
 She left her coat at home that night.

Where do I begin today? Where do colors never fade?
 In the sunshine. In the rain. It's quite the same.
 It's never gonna change. I'll be looking for Jane.

Why did she come? Why did she come to me?
 There must have been millions in the world she'd rather see.
 Oh, at least in my mind, as time has gone by,
 it's always harder to laugh than to cry.

Where do I begin today? (ba-ba-ba)
 Where her colors never fade (ba-ba-ba).
 In the sun and in the rain. It's quite the same.

It's never gonna change. I'll be looking for Jane.
 Where do I begin today? (ba-ba-ba)
 Where the summer never fades? (ba-ba-ba).
 In the sunshine. In the rain. It's quite the same.
 It's never gonna change. I'll be looking for Jane...

Solo: Gbm B E A E (2x) D E

Where do I begin today?
 Where her colors never fade
 In the sun and in the rain. It's quite the same.
 It's never gonna change. I'll be looking for Jane...

Where do I begin today?
 Where the summer never fades?
 In the sunshine. In the rain. It's quite the same.
 It's never gonna change. I'll be looking for Jane...

In the sunshine. In the rain. It's quite the same.
 It's never gonna change. I'll be looking for Jane...

D G A D D D D

Acordes

