

Roxette - No One Makes It On Her Own

Tom: C

Have you ever had the feeling you take it all for granted
 You wake up every morning and expect to rise
 Have you ever had a moment to look into the mirror
 To find a person Who won't open her eyes

Have you ever felt a presence (or is it all in the past, dear?)
 So mesmerizing It chills you to the bone

Have you ever been in love And overcome that first fear
 Well, then you know No one makes it on her own

Did you ever catch a sunset right across the ocean
 The universe revealed and it didn't make sense at all
 When you came into my world causing quite a commotion
 I could have sworn I've met you many times before

Cos there's something in your eyes That links us together
 Something 'bout your face your lips Your smile looks so alone
 )
 Have you ever been in love and thought it'd last forever
 Well, then you know no one makes it on her own oooooo oooooooooo oooooooooo

Solo 2x: D D D D A G

Hey, there's something in your eyes that links us together
 Something 'bout your face your lips your smile looks so alone
 )
 Have you ever been in love and thought it'd last forever
 Then you know no one makes it on her own no one makes it on her own

Acordes

