

Sabrina Carpenter - Lie To Girls

tom:
 Don't swear on your mom
 That it's the first drink that you've had in, like, a month
 No, don't say it was just an isolated incident that happened once
 There's no need to pretend
 I've never seen an ugly truth that I can't bend
 To something that looks better, I'm stupid, but I'm clever
 Yeah, I can make a shit show look a whole lot like forever and ever
 You don't have to lie to girls
 If they like you, they'll just lie to themselves
 Like you, they'll just lie to themselves
 You don't have to lie to girls
 If they like you, they'll just lie to themselves
 Don't I know it better than anyone else?
 All of your best excuses, no, they don't stand a chance
 Against all the chances I give you
 Isn't ideal, but damn
 You don't even have to try
 Turn you into a good guy
 You don't have to lift a finger

Acordes

It's lucky for you I'm just like
 My mother (and my sister)
 All my (all my friends)
 The girl out (?side the strip club)
 Getting her tarot cards read
 We love to read the cold, hard facts
 And swear they're incorrect
 We love to mistake butterflies for cardiac arrest
 You don't have to lie to girls
 If they like you, they'll just lie to themselves
 Like you, they'll just lie to themselves
 You don't have to lie to girls (don't have)
 If they like you, they'll just lie to themselves
 Don't I know it better than anyone else?
 Girls will cry, and girls will lie
 And girls will do it till they die for you
 They'll cry, and girls will lie
 And do it till the day they die (for you)
 Girls will cry, and girls will lie (ooh, ooh)
 And girls will lose their goddamn minds for you
 They'll cry, and girls will lie
 And do it till the day they die for you
