

Sarah Kang - My Little Dream

tom:

I used to look at the stars
 How they'd shine so bright
 Make a wish every time
 But I know that the sun will come up
 And this moment will fade
 I'll forget it and wish it away
 Maybe one day I will finally see
 All of the things that I wished I would be
 Imagine a warm summer day
 You would smile at me
 Like it was yesterday
 It's hard to hold on and believe
 'Cause what if it's not meant to be
 I'll try to pretend
 That it's not the end
 Of dreaming my little dream

Time after time as the seasons go by
 I wonder if I'll finally choose to give up
 But imagine a warm summer day
 You would smile at me
 Like it was yesterday
 It's hard to hold on and believe
 'Cause what if it's not meant to be
 I'll try to pretend
 That it's not the end
 Of dreaming my little dream
 Just wait and see
 It's hard to hold on and believe
 'Cause what if it's not meant to be
 I'll try to pretend
 That it's not the end
 You just wait and see
 I know it's real
 I'll keep on dreaming my little dream
