

Sarah Mclachlan - Forgiveness

tom:
Capo: 3ª casa (forma dos acordes no tom de G)
Loving lying enemy
I have seen your face before
Never thought again I'd see
Didn't want to anymore
I remember your loving eyes
And the moonlit kiss
The evening lullabies I will truly miss
Through the years we had it all
Midnight whispers, the midday calls
This house of call it had to fall
And you ask for forgiveness
You're asking too much
I have sheltered my heart in a place you can't touch
Don't believe when you tell me your love is real
'Cause you don't know much about heaven boy
If you have to hurt to feel
Every time I see you
I can't help but look away
All along I had believed everything you'd say
When I look now I know I've seen your face before

Don't want your deceiving smile
Standing at my door
And I don't care what people say
I'm ready now to face this day
'Cause I have lost you along the way
And you ask for forgiveness
You're asking too much
I have sheltered my heart in a place you can't touch
Don't believe when you tell me your love is real
'Cause you don't know much about heaven boy
If you have to hurt to feel
(Am C G D)
(D Am C G)
(D Am C G)
'Cause you don't know much about heaven boy
If you have to hurt
And you ask for forgiveness
You're asking too much
I have sheltered my heart in a place you can't touch
Don't believe when you tell me your love is real
'Cause you don't know much about heaven boy
If you have to hurt to feel
(Em C G D)

Acordes

