

Seal - Princess

Tom: Eb

Album: Human Beings

The song is tuned down half a step, but I play it in standard.
You just lose a little of the deeper, reminating qualities of the sound.
Intro: horus:

Play this 4x for the intro and 4x for the Chorus, adding an extra strum of the high notes in the chord after each chord.

Verse:

Play this 3x and go back into the chorus pattern for "It almost set you free."

Pretty much just repeat this twice, then with a reprise of the chorus.

Lyrics:
Her dress is catching fire

Daddy's little lemon ain't
All she's meant to be

I almost made you jump
The trust you so desire
My love is tasting bitter
Cause it almost set you free

The princess and the liar
Her dress is catching fire
Daddy's little lemon ain't
All she seems to me
(yeaheeyeah...)

You're heading for the crash
It'll be right here tomorrow
I'll even pay for gas
If you wreck us gracefully

The princess and the liar
Her dress is catching fire
Daddy's little lemon ain't
all she's meant to be
