From the day you took me home
I knew I was not alone
And all the pain I had seemed to be gone

Running backwards to the edge
Things I don't dare to confess
You've locked my secrets in a blind spell

Oh, never leave me
Never walk away
There's a spell on me that, for me
Could spell the end

If yours feeling fall apart
And you an't sustain your heart
It's time to realise what you really are

Oh, please believe me
I've Been so ashamed
Take your spell on me, it could drive me
To the end

Sometimes we run
Sometimes we hide inside a hole and fade away
We turn to stone

And let the weather carve it's traces
To open our eyes one day?

Should I throw myself in the oceans of time
Without you will I ever dare to survive

Sometimes we run
Sometimes we hide inside a hole and fade away
We turn to stone

And let the weather carve it's traces
To open our eyes one day?

Help me, help me, to open my eyes someday.
