                                                                  Sometimes, lonely isn't sad
                                                                   G Em

                                                                   And I know, and you know too
                                                                  That a love, like ours
   There's thieves among us
   Painting the walls
                                                                   Is terrible news
   All kinds of lies, and lies
                                                                   But that wont stop me crying
   I never told it all
                                                                   No, that wont stop me crying over you
                                                                  0uuuuuuuu
   What's in my pocket?
   You never knew
                                                                  No, that wont stop me crying over you
   You didn't know me well
                                                                  We two are makers
   So well, as I knew you
                                                                  Just made this mess

    And I know, and you know too {\color{red} G}
                                                                  Two broken hearts don't beat
   That a love, like ours
                                                                 Any less
   Is terrible news
                                                                  There's thieves among us
   But that wont stop me crying
                                                                  Painting the walls
                                                          Em
                                                                  All kinds of lies, and lies
   No, that wont stop me crying over you
                                                                   I never told it all
    I'm not a prophet
                                                                          Fm
                                                                   And I know, and you know too
   Old love is in me
  New love just seaps right in C D
                                                                   That a love, like ours
                                                                    C D
  And, it makes me guilty
                                                                   Is terrible news
                                                                   But that wont stop me crying
   Why do you look like that?
                                                                   No, that wont stop me crying over you
   And not all that fast
                                                                  0uuuuuuuu
   I'll see you sometime
