

S.O.J.A. (Soldiers of Jah Army) - I Tried

```
Tom: F (guitarra solo)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     (solo)
I can't forget that day I got you (repetir acordes do verso)
Theres something about you, I just watched you (gentleman)
Like something I tried but I forgot to And all I know the more that I think about it is, the deeper I doubt it
Its not that I wanted to, its just that I lost you is unsure what this emotion promises what kind of pain and strain it is (solo)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    so many times Ive done that before told myself that I should know more Seek and get past it, now that I lost it (verso) there is no bridge, so how can i cross it?
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    Down so low in the valley of decision Thoughts of you run over in my mind and I try so hard to just Clouded mind disturbing my vision press rewind to find Bleeding heart affecting my vision compromising on this love mission and its something I held maybe one time and I and no matter how me try, still she cant just satisfy now could the truth be a lie and all I do is think water drop out of me eye cuz me see the well run dry
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    I tried
But thinking about you never brought you back (repetir acordes do refrão)
So far from you in my mind I go Cuz I tried to change
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   and I tried to stay, tried to stay the same % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) \left(
But my heart hurts, it brings me back before I know
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    And I tried to work
So all I do is think
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    And I tried for her, her, her
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     I tried
(refrão)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     (2 Solo de guitarra)
Cuz I tried to change
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     (repetir acordes do verso)
and I tried to stay, tried to stay the same No i cant forget that day I got you theres something about you, I just watched you (fire!)
And I tried to work memories of you keep flashing through my mind
And I tried for her, I tried cant keep it up and me cant resign Destination street and me no see no sign
I can't forget that day I got you Got to rise above to cross borderline Theres something about you, I just watched you
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    I tried
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    cuz I tried to change
Like something I tried but I forgot to
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   and I tried to stay, tried to stay the same % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) \left(
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   And I tried to work
Its not that I wanted to, its just that I lost you
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   And I tried for her, I tried
```

Acordes

