

Sonic Youth - Shadow Of A Doubt

Tom: E

SHADOW OF A DOUBT

Thurston's part:

Tuning: Gb Gb Gb Gb E B

For the intro and verse play (all harmonics):

The "Met a stranger on the train" part just goes (still harmonics):

During the bridge (w/ multiple Kim vocals), one guitar keeps playing harmonics at the 7th fret, and I believe the distorted guitar is an overdub. It's hard to hear Thurston's part, but this works:

Play twice keep droning the open strings til the section ends. It helps to fret one of the middle Gb strings at the 7th fret, or even strike 7th fret harmonics furiously til the bridge ends. End the song on all open strings or harmonics.
