

Sonicflood - Circles

```
Tom: Eb
                                                       But give it time
                                                           Cm
                                                       There's a pattern inside of your past
So here you are
                                                          Ab
Walking away from your life
                                                       That nothing you find ever lasts
 Ab
                                                                  Eb
                                                       And you'll be back
You tell me that you're different inside
       Eb
                                                                 G7
The same old words
                                                       Where you began
You used last time
                                                       (Refrão)
                                                               Fm
              Cm
                                                       You'll turn your back
                                                         Fm
                                                       That can't be filled with something so cheap
On everything that you ever knew
                                                          Fm
  Ab
                                                                             Gm Cm
                                                       Like a lover or a bottle or a new philosophy
And everyone that cares for you
                                                            Fm
                                                                                Gm
To find yourself
                                                       But you've got to lay them down to feel
                                                          Ab
It's nothing new
                                                       The love that can set you free!
 Refrão:
 Can't you see that you're running in circles
                                                         Can't you see that you're running in circles
                                                         Open up and then you move away
                                                           Bb
 Open up and then you move away
Ab Cm
 And you say that you want to be loved for who you are
                                                         And you say that you want to be loved for who you a
   Ab
 Who are you anyway
                                                                Αb
                                                         But you keep on running in circles
So here it goes
                                                         How long can you live this way
   Cm
                                                           Ab
                                                                            Cm
                                                         So you just want to be loved for who you are
For a little while you'll be at peace
And you'll think you've finally found what you need
                                                         Who are you anyway
       Eb
                                                          Cm Bb
To fill your heart
                                                          'are you anyway
                                                           Ab
And ease your mind
                                                         Who are you anyway
```

Acordes

