

Sorority Noise - Blonde Hair, Black Lungs

tom:

G

When you told me you were leaving

Well I couldn't feel my mouth

Because all I'll ever be is someone else

As you walked away

I felt something in me change

My heart froze over, all emotion dripped away

[Refrão]

F C

So I drove home

At a hundred miles an hour

Just to see what it feels like to fly

I crashed my car

Into someone else's backyard

Just to see what it feels like to die

F C

When you told me that you missed me

Well i couldn't close my eyes

Because I realized what it felt like to die

F C

'Cause all you'll ever be

Is a nightmare and a wet dream

A reason to smile from six feet under ground

[Refrão]

F C

So I drove home

At a hundred miles an hour

Just to see what it feels like to fly

I crashed my car

Into someone else's backyard

Just to see what it feels like to die

F C Gm

So bathe me in pale flesh

Promise that I'll never be good again

And I hope you miss me when I'm gone

Because I can't hold on for too long

And I'm so scared of dying alone

That I'll kill myself right here, right now

F C Dm Bb

And I'll die, and I'll die, and I'll die

Acordes

