Circle of Power
(words by Hiro Yamamoto, music by Kim Thayil)

basically the main riff for this song is:

This opens up the song and appears during the interlude. Blah blah blah blah blah blah. Anyway, the chords played through are the power chords:

F#, A, G#, G

These chords are played on the A string, meaning Gb should be played on the ninth fret of the guitar and it goes up to A on the twelfth, then going down to Ab then G. After that a riff comes that plays the root note of these chords on the E string like this:

That is basically the song in a nutshell and rest is future.
