Soundgarden - Day I Tried To Live

Tom: G	then comes the main riff, and oh how nice it is:
(off of the album Superunknown)	all strums are DOWN-
The intro is played by two guitars, one slightly distorted, the other with a clean tonethe distorted guitar's riff is played a few more	I'm not sure but I think that right before the main riff is played times in different parts of the song. Just listen to it to get all	this chord is strummed once :
the parts right:	e 6 B 6
guitar 1 (a little distortion):	G 7 D 8 A 8 E 6 guitar 2 (clear tone):
comes in on second measure the first cycle of the riff guitar one is playing	the main riff is repeated it I think 5 times and then goes back into the intro riff the distorted guitar played and then back into the main riff later and thenyou get it.
on fourth time play this for second guitar:	oh, towards the end there's a little dink of a riff that sort of hangs there until the end - I forgot to figure that out but it shouldn't then the bass and drums come in for their little intro and during that	exactly be difficult.
the distorted guitar plays something close to this slowly in rythym	that's about it.
with the bass:	disclaimer: I figured ths out on an acoustic guitar so keep that in mind while you fix the mistakes

Acordes

