

Steven Wilson - 3 Years Older

Tom: D

A Em
You cross the schoolyard with your head held down
A Em
You walk the streets under the breaking cloud
Gbm B D
With a hundred futures cascading out
D
It's complicated

A Em
You think of love as just a memory
A Em
A fog that smothers you, it's hard to breathe
Gbm B D
But when you're on your own, that's when you're free
Ebdim D
You're three years older, and you'll always be now

F G A
I can feel you more than you really know
F G A
I will love you more than I'll ever show

A Em
There was a time when someone seemed to care
A Em
A tourist in your bed, you left him there
Gbm B D
And found a simple life with no one to share
D
It's not complicated

A Em
You make a list of all your big regrets
A Em
And share with people that you've never met

Gbm B D
You slowly move towards the medicine chest
Ebdim D
You're three years older, and you'll always be now

F G A
I can feel you more than you really know
F G A
I will love you more than I'll ever show
F G Em F
You only have to say, and the world will slip away
A
From you

Gbm B Gbm B Dbm A B Dbm D C B

Gbm B
Shame on you for getting older every day
Gbm B
This place is not for you, so why do you still stay?
Dbm A B
You're standing with the other fuckers in the rain
Dbm D C
Life is not some silly cure for your pain
B
You'll have to pay

F G A
I can feel you more than you really know
F G A
I will love you more than I'll ever show
F G Em F
You only have to say, and the world will slip away
A
From you
