                                                                if I can't live without you and I can't breathe
                           Cm
It's only common sense, so please don't take offense, when I'm with you,
                           Ab
I gotta say what's on my mind.
                                                                what am I really doing here.
                                                                Ab
                                                                I don't want to live without you,
Cuz all this bitterness, has made me second guess,
                            Αb
and I've waited all my life.
                                                                but God only knows what I've been through,
                    Cm
You know it's true, it isn't me, it isn't you, cuz dying is all we're doing here...oooohhhhhhh...

                                                                what am I really doing here.
