

Stone Temple Pilots - Perdida

```
tom:
Intro: Em C Am7 B7
Thank you for the memories I carry
The time is here to move along
Never been one to do things gracefully
I know for that I'm always wrong
      Am7
Oh Perdida, come and go
Stay with me tonight
But in the morning, please be gone
( Em C Am7 B7 )
I know the changes are the ones you see \
I'm lost in circles most the time
                           Am7
As stronger reason gets the best of me
Behind the smile I'm slowly dying
```

```
Oh Perdida, come and go
 Stay with me tonight
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   B7 E
 But in the morning, please be gone
                                                                                        Am7
 And oh Perdida visits me
 I'll meet you in the sky % \left\{ 1,2,\ldots ,n\right\} =\left\{ 1,2,
 Where the winds turn into breeze
   ( Em C Am7 )
   [Solo] B7 C D G E
                                                                         Am7 D G B7
 E E7
                                                                                                                 Am7
 And oh Perdida, come and go
Stay with me tonight
But in the morning, please be gone
                                                                                        Am7
And oh Perdida visits me
 I'll meet you in the sky
 Where the winds turn into breeze
   ( Em C Am7 B7 )
```

Acordes

