Sum 41 - Breaking the Chain

Tom: A
Intro: Gbm x2

```
 Gbm        A
Here as I stand,
         E               E
All the signs become so clear
            Gbm
To get back home again
     A               E   E
Sometimes I lose my way, hey
             D
Because I'm bound to fall and I just lose it all
      E
Am I running outta time?

                  Gbm
I'm breaking the chain
          A
From the life I knew
        E
Being black and blue
      D                 Gbm
It's time to be face to face
          A                     E             C
With the lies I choose or the truth into the lie
          Gbm
I make no mistake
               A
I've paid my price
             E             D          Gbm
I've done my time with the devil in disguise
           A                E                D
Cause the life I knew has a different view tonight
                  Gbm
I'm breaking the chain

Gbm            A          E           E
Days passed me by like I'm seven wasted time
          Gbm                A               E    E
I'm not alright, I think I'm falling for the lie
            D
And as it fades to black, I'm not looking back
             E
I'm still blinded by the lies

                  Gbm
I'm breaking the chain
          A
From the life I knew
        E
Being black and blue
      D                 Gbm
```

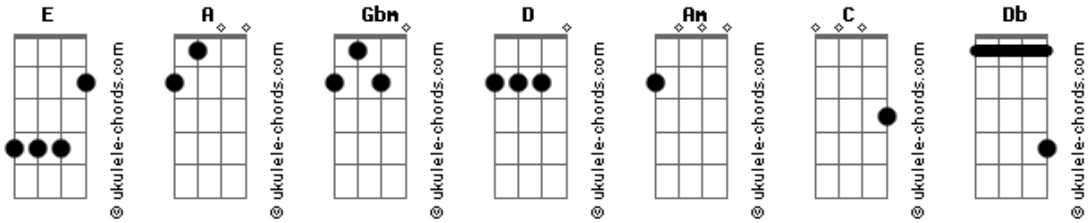
```
It's time to be face to face
               A                     E             C
With the lies I choose or the truth into the lie
               Gbm
I make no mistake
                 A
I've paid my price
               E             D          Gbm
I've done my time with the devil in disguise
             A                E                D
Cause the life I knew has a different view tonight
                        Gbm
I'm breaking the chain

Gbm

Gbm                                  A
Cause I'm not chasing, chasing yesterday
I've lost the feeling
Gbm                          A
Skies don't fade, they never go away
And I'm still bleeding
D                                      E
Every step I take, all the chains I break
               Db
It brings me one step closer
Gbm

                  Gbm
I'm breaking the chain
          A
From the life I knew
        E
Being black and blue
      D                 Gbm
It's time to be face to face
               A                     E             C
With the lies I choose or the truth into the lie
               Gbm
I make no mistake
                 A
I've paid my price
               E             D          Gbm
I've done my time with the devil in disguise
             A                E                D
Cause the life I knew has a different view tonight
                        Gbm A E D
I'm breaking the chain
                        Gbm A E D
I'm breaking the chain
                        Gbm
I'm breaking the chain
```

Acordes



Oferecimento Lojalele.com.br