

Switchfoot - Gone

Tom: E

[INT] -> E Dbm (x4) then E B E (x4)

She told him she'd rather fix her make-up
Than try to fix what's goin on
But the problem keeps on callin even
With the cell-phone gone
She told him that she believes in livin
Bigger than she's livin now
But her world keeps spinnin backwards, and upside-down
Don't say so-long, and through a cell-phone
Don't spend today away, cause today will soon be

Chorus:

Gone, like yesterday is gone
Like history is gone
Just try and prove me wrong
And pretend like you're immortal
E B E (x2)

She said, He said live like no tomorrow
Every day we borrow brings us
One step closer to the edge
Infinity, where's
Your treasure, where's your hope
If you get the world, and lose your soul
She pretends like, she pretends like she's immortal
Don't say so-long, you're not that far gone
This could be your big chance to make-up, today will soon be

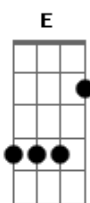

Chorus 2:

Gone, like yesterday is gone
Like history is gone
The world keeps spinnin on
You're going, going, gone

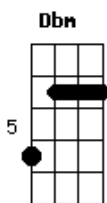

Like summer break is gone
Like Saturday is gone
Just try and prove me wrong
You pretend like you're immortal
(You're immortal) You're immortal
We are not infinite, we are not permanent
Nothing's immediate
We're so comforted in our accomplishments
Look at our decadence

Gone, like Frank Sinatra
(Gone) Like Elvis and his mom
Like Al Pachino's cash
Nothing lasts in this life (gone)
My high school dreams are gone
My childhood sweets are gone
Life is a day that doesn't last for long
Gone, life is more than money
Gone, time was never money
Gone, time was never cash
Life is still more than girls
Life is more than hundred-dollar bills
And little town frills
Life is more than fame and rock and roll and thrills
All the riches of the kings and the pinwheels
We've got information in the information age
But do we know what life is
Outside of our convenient Lexus cages
She said, He said live like no tomorrow
Every moment that we borrow
Brings us closer to the God who's not short of cash
(fade out)
