

Switchfoot - Restless

Intro: 4x: B E
I am the sea on a moonless night, calling, falling, slipping
I am the leaky, dripping pipes; the endless aching drops of
I am the raindrop falling down, always longing for the deeper
I am the broken, breaking seas. Even my blood finds ways to bleed
                          E
Abm
                                                                Abm
Even the rivers ways to run; even the rain to reach the sun
Even my thirsty streams; even in my dreams
                                                                Looking for you; looking for you
I am restless; I am restless. I am restless; looking for you
I am restless, I run like the ocean to find your shore. Im
looking for you
                                                               looking for you
I am the thorn stuck in your side, I am the one that you left behind.
I am the dried up, doubting eyes, looking for the well that Running hard for the other side, the world that Ive always been denied.
Running hard for the infinite, with the tears of the saints and hypocrites.
                                                                Looking for you
Oh blood of black and white and gray; death and life and night Yeeeh!
One by one by one, we let our rivers run

Acordes

Cause I cant hear you breathing, I cant feel you leaving
More than just a feeling, more than just a feeling.
I can feel you reaching, pushing through the ceiling.
Until the final healing, Im looking for you.
Until the sea of glass we meet, at last completed and complete
The tide of tear and pain subside. Laughter drinks them dry.
Ill be waiting. Anticipating, all that I aim for; what I was
With every heartbeat, all of my blood bleeds; running inside
Looking for you; looking for you
I am restless; I am restless. I am restless; looking for you
I am restless, I run like the ocean to find your shore. Im
Cause I cant hear you breathing, I cant feel you leaving
More than just a feeling, more than just a feeling.
I can feel you reaching, pushing through the ceiling.
Until the final healing, Im looking for you.
