

Taylor Swift - Never Mind

```
Tom: Bb
                                                                There's nothing I could do baby to make it go away
                                                               So look at you
 (com acordes na forma de
                                             G )
Capostraste na 3ª casa
Intro: G Am Em G D
                                                               And look at me
                                                               I think of who we could be
Look at you
                                                               But every time I look at you I can hardly say a thing
        Em
Look at me
                                                               My head starts to spin and it hits me again
Look at who
                                                               I love you
We could be
                                                               And every time you look at me I could go crazy but I don't say
I wanna know
       Em
Who you are won't cause I rather be alone
What you want
       G
From the stars
                                                               Then lose you
And every time I look at you I can hardly say a thing
                                                                And all I really want to do is be next to you but I'm too
                                                               tired to fight
My head starts to spin and it hits me then
                                                               And I could tell you now but baby never mind
I love you
                                                                ( G Am Em Am Em Am G D )
And every time you look at me I could go crazy but I don't say it but I
                                                               All I really want to say is I need you baby I'm happy don't won't cause I rather be alone
                                                               you understand
                                                               What happens if you turn away
Then lose you
                                                                And everything turns blue and gray
                                                               And I just wish I'd told you never mind
And all I really want to do is be next to you but I'm too
                                                               And I could tell you now but baby never mind
tired to fight
And I could tell you now but baby never mind
                                                               Yeah
                                                                Em C
                                                               Oh yeah
( G Am Em Am Em Am G D )
                                                                               D
                                                               I can tell you now but never mind
All the time
                                                               Yeah
Every day
                                                               Em C
                                                               Oh yeah
                             G
                                      D
                                                                                 D
                                                               And I can tell you now but never mind
Acordes
```

