Intro: A E D Gbm
                                                                I?ll be one of the many saying
Hit the ground, hit the ground, hit the ground, oh, oh
                                                                Look at you now, look at you now"
Only sound, only sound that you hear is no
                                                                And I?ll, I?ll be one of the many saying
You never saw it coming
                                                                You made us proud, you made us proud, proud"
Slipped when you started runnin?
                                                                I?ll be one of the many saying
And now you?ve come undone and I, I, I, I
                                                                Look at you now, look at you now"
Seen you fall, seen you crawl on you knees, hey, hey
                                                                And I?ll, I?ll be one of the many saying
Seen you lost in a crowd, seen you colors fade
                                                                You made us proud, you made us proud, proud "
Wish I could make you better
Someday you won?t remember
                                                                And when they call your name
This pain you thought would last forever and ever
                                                                And they put your picture in a frame
                                                                You know that I?ll be there time and again
There you?ll stand
                                                                'Cause I loved you then
10 feet tall
I will say I knew it all along
                                                                When you, hit the ground, hit the ground, hit the ground, oh
Your eyes are wider than distance
                                                                Only sound, only sound that you heard was no
This life is sweeter than fiction
                                                                Now in this perfect weather
Just a shot, just a shot in the dark, oh, oh
                                                                It?s like we don?t remember
All you got, all you got are your shattered hopes
                                                                The rain we thought would last forever and ever
They never saw it coming
                                                                There you?ll stand
You hit the ground runnin?
                                                                10 feet tall
And now you?re onto something, I, I, I said
                                                                I will say I knew it all along
What a sight, what a sight when the light came on
                                                                Your eyes are wider than distance
Proved me right, proved me right when you proved them wrong
                                                                This life is sweeter than fiction
And then this perfect weather, it?s like we don?t remember
                                                                There you?ll stand, next to me
The rain we thought would last forever and ever
                                                                All at once, the rest is history
There you?ll stand
                                                                Your eyes are wider than distance
                                                                This life is sweeter than fiction
