

Teo Glacier - Close With Desires

```
tom:
                                                                  Oh I just can't forget babe
               D
                                                                                      Rm7
Intro: Em7 Gbm7 Bm7
                                                                  You know I tried my best babe
                                                                                  Am7
                                                                  I been tripping over her
                  Gbm7
  We go back and forth like it's nothing
                                                                  Then trip on you the next day
                 Am7
   Seems that we already hit the summit
                                                                                Gbm7
                 Gbm7
                                                                  Wish I could rewind
  I could try to chase you up but I already tried
                                                                  Get you out my mind
                 Am7
   Ain't worth my time
                                                                  I just need some time
  Ain't worth my-
                                                                  I just need some-
   Em7
   Time and time again babe
   Gbm7
                                                                  Time and time again babe
   Messages on read babe
                                                                  Messages on read babe
   I can't read between the lines, the lines
                                                                                            Am7
                                                                  I can't read between the lines, the lines
   And I gave you my best babe
                                                                  And I gave you my best babe
   You still up and left babe
                                                                  Gbm7
                           Am7
                                                                  You still up and left babe
   Bm7
   Maybe right p?rson wrong timing
                                                                  Bm7
                                                                  Maybe right p?rson wrong timing
                                                                               Em7
   But I can't be stuck on someone who don't lov? me no more
                                                                   But I can't be stuck on someone who don't lov? me no more
                                                                  Bm7
   Bm7
   Trust me no more
                                                                  Trust me no more
   Am7
                                                                  Am7
   Want me no more
                                                                  Want me no more
                Em7
   And I can't be falling for somebody, no if I can't
                                                                  And I can't be falling for somebody, no if I can't Rm7
                          Am7
                                                                    Rm7
                                                                                          Am7
   Forget about the past, forget what we had
                                                                   Forget about the past, forget what we had
                 Em7
                                                                                 Em7
   And I can't be stuck on someone who don't love me no more
                                                                  And I can't be stuck on someone who don't love me no more
   Bm7
                                                                  Bm7
   Trust me no more
                                                                  Trust me no more
   Am7
                                                                  Am7
   Want me no more
                                                                  Want me no more
                 Em7
                                       Gbm7
                                                                  And I can't be falling for somebody no if I can't
   And I can't be falling for somebody no if I can't
                                                                                            Am7
   Forget about the past, forget what we had
                                                                   Forget about the past, forget what we had
```

Acordes

